Improve your business's productivity and profitability.

Whether you require simple applications like automated check and invoice drafting, sales, inventory and expense tracking, and budget creation, or have complex needs associated with supply chain management, distribution, and sales order processing, Accountteks Consulting can help your business choose the right accounting system. For service-based businesses, we provide easy-to-use software that tracks time spent and expenses incurred, quickly generates bills and invoices, and effectively manages accounts receivables.

Reduce paper waste and increase efficiency.

Give your staff fast, easy access to all of your business's information and knowledge - from word processing files and spreadsheets, to emails, scanned documents and even voice mails - virtually anything that can be stored as a file. Accountteks Consulting can implement a document management system that will organize data and enable version control while reducing the costs associated with storing paper documents and searching for or replicating unfound documents.

Streamline processes and improve workflow.

From automated dictation services and paperless office solutions to customized invoicing and customer management tools, Accountteks Consulting can show you how to apply technology solutions to optimize business processes and improve key business functions. We specialize in providing custom solutions to address business problems when no "out of the box" solution exists.
